LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Greetings:

Big changes for our club are announced in this issue. A name change to Cesky Fousek North America may seem small, but it's more than just a name. It reflects our deepening alliance with the world-wide Cesky Fousek community. It means revising our web sites, and developing a strategy for educating the North American hunting dog public about the Cesky Fousek and for attracting future club members and dog owners. We need all club members to be active in promoting our breed. Please volunteer your help, whether as a club/chapter officer, helping with testing, being a photographer, becoming a judge or helping with web sites and the GDS.

This issue celebrates the new pups of 2019. If you have photos or adventures to share, please submit them. We'll include more in future issues. Now get out there and keep hunting! The season doesn't last long

Rem DeJong,

Editor

Club Name Change Approved

Bohemian Wirehared Pointing Griffon Club of America to become Cesky Fousek North America

September 23, 2019 - BWPGCA Secretary Robin Strathy declared the 30-day voting period on the BWPGCA name change, to Cesky Fousek North America (CFNA), to be complete. At the time the vote was called, 97% of the votes were in favor of changing the name. There were ninety-two total votes, 89 in favor and 3 against. The Club's Constitution requires that the proposal pass by 2/3 of those voting.

With the voting complete, it's time for the Club to begin the process of effecting the change. This includes such details as revising the Club's logo, contracts, forms and our digital presence. There will also be changes to the corporate registration, the IRS and insurance coverage. The Board of Directors has set a target date of the January 1, 2020 to have all the changes complete.

Along with the name change comes another significant accomplishment, recognition of our dogs by one of the world's major kennel clubs, the Federation Cynologique Internationale (FCI) through its North American representative club, The Federacion Canofila de Puerto Rico (FCPR). Since FCI and most of the dog-world recognizes the breed Cesky Fousek, but not Bohemian Wirehaired Pointing Griffon, several of our dogs and most of the recent litters have been registered with FCI.

BWPGCA President Jim Crouse said "First, I would like to recognize, Laurie Connell for her tenacity in pursuing this name change for many years. This is a new beginning for this Club and the dogs it supports. I'm excited that our dogs are finally recognized by the FCPR and that we now have registered dogs, not just designer dogs. We haven't had the option of registration with a national or international kennel club since the 1980's when the Club started outcrossing with the Cesky Fouseks.

There's a lot of work ahead, but I believe our dedicated members will rise to the occasion."

Report from the Breeding Committee by Laurie Connell

The 2019 breeding season is now over, and we are starting our process for 2020.

After a rocky start we ended up with five wonderful litters, full of potential as future hunters and family companions.

They are:

“B” of Bald Eagle (Cira od Aliny z Nehvizd x Edý z Veseckých luhů)
born 06 April 2019 2 males 3 females.

“A” of Cherry River (Calina Rokycanská kotlina x Oliver z Malého Boubína)
born 13 April 2019 2 males 4 females

“A” of Shaw Brook (Alma z Březové hráze x Brady of Blackberry Briar)
born 02 May 2019 7 males 3 females

“B” of Two River’s Crossing (Arika of Zumbro Valley x Argo ze Stoprounských vinic)
born 23 May 2019 2 males 5 females

“A” of Payette River (Cora z Cecemínských vinic x Corbet of High Desert)
born 29 May 2019 2 males 4 females

As always, we based the number of breedings on the length of the puppy list. We were able to place all the puppies in good homes; however, we ran into difficulties because 16 people on the active puppy list decided at the last minute to defer until 2020. We are exploring a system to help relieve us of this uncertainty in future breedings.

This year, we are now able to register litters in the Fédération Cynologique Internationale (FCI) through the Puerto Rico Kennel club (FCPR). Dogs registered in the FCPR may compete in NAVHDA and UKC, unlike our domestically bred dogs. The breeding rights are still held through the breeders/ buyers agreement each owner signs before they get their puppy. However, BOTH parents must be registered before the litter registration can be submitted and EVERY puppy must have a microchip number for litter registration. Also, the price per puppy for registration increases as the age of the puppy increases with up to 6 months of age as the limit that the club will pay for litter registration. Thus far, three of our litters have had litter registration submitted. They are “B” of Bald Eagle, “A” of Cherry River, and “A” of Payette River. For the other two litters, if owners want to participate in any out of club activities, they will need to go through the longer process of single dog registration. Those folks should contact the registrar (Laurie Connell) for help through the process.

This year all of the breeders embraced the Puppy Culture methods with videos and a workbook. We have already gotten a number of responses from new puppy owners telling us how these puppies are very well prepared for their new homes. It is the responsibility of the new owners to follow through with all the tremendously hard work the breeders have done! In addition, we have initiated a new Training Committee (TC). The TC is still in development, but we hope that that will shift some of the responsibility of mentoring new puppy owners from the breeders to the TC. The next several years will show even more developments along these lines and we have hopes it will give assistance to new owners, especially for the early weeks getting their puppy to be good family members and canine citizens.

Editor's Note

Laurie mentioned the great job that breeders did with employing the Puppy Culture model to raising their litters. They also did a great job with documenting their experiences in photographs and videos. Two of the breeders, A of Shaw Brook and B of Two River's Crossing, created Facebook pages for their litters. It's a great way to share the litter's progress on Facebook without mixing the content with one's personal page.

If you haven't seen their pages, be sure and check them out. There are lots of great videos as well as still photos. Each of the litters also has a photo page on our website. Here are the links to the pertinent sites:

Puppy Updates 2019

Editor's Note: I requested owners of new pups send updates and photos. Below are some observations that I received from owners in their own words plus photos of their pups. We hope to have more for the December issue and we'll also post photos in our gallery on line.

Thanks to everyone who submitted material. Club members and breeders love to know how pups are doing, so please keep them coming.

John Yindra and Bean of Two Rivers Crossing (Alex)

Alex is coming along fine. She is 4 months old now and weighs 30 lbs. She is used to gunshots and I am using the Goose wings to start training her on her retrieving. She still has a short attention span but responds to the whistle now when I want her to come...most of the time. We have all fallen in love with her of course. My son's family is taking care of her when I am in Portland or away and she moves easily between the 2 spaces. Next week I am planning to take her up country for the annual partridge hunt so she can get a feel for that. A couple of weeks ago we went to the NE trial for the puppy day. She tracked down a chukar at the trial and came to a semi point on a hidden pigeon. Although she has been in the lake and will swim a short distance she was not at all interested in the swimming duck. We walk in the woods every day and she stays close and smells everything. I could not be happier with her.

John Yindra.

Phil Lukish and Adar of Shaw Brook

My new pup Adar of Shaw Brook (call name GORT) is fitting in just fine. He is the easiest puppy that I ever had. His training is going well and gets along great with the other two dogs. He hasn't been exposed to birds yet, but that will change soon. I have some problem with getting him into water, but that is coming along just fine now. His coat is changing more than I expected. He now shows black as well as brown. He is sporting a mane now along with longer hair on the back.

—Phil

Laura Chichester and “Tilly”

A Tillers Mate of Payette River “Tilley” is having a blast with her new sister GiGi a Weizsla.

Tilley learned to chase a chukkar and all sorts of new things in the field and in the water - last weekend at the Cesky Fousek of NA puppy training event in Maine. It was so fun watching Tilley as the youngest puppy at the event. Tina, Rick, Andy, Laurie and Anna did a fantastic job teaching all of us new puppy owners the ropes with a fledgling bird dog.

Bart Camps and Akira of Shaw Brook “Jax”

I'm a new Cesky owner. I did an exhaustive search on the breed. The more I researched, the more I believed this was going to be my next hunting breed. I've trained several hunting breeds and working dogs in the past.

This pup has exceeded my expectations. He is eager to train and please. I sometimes forget how young he is (4 1/2 months). I continue to challenge him and he continues to excel. His tracking skills surprise me at his young age.

Yesterday, he retrieved his first wild bird. He is only 4 1/2 months at the time of this correspondence. It was a big mature Grouse. The bird was crippled and I wasn't sure how he would react, but I sent him. He didn't see the bird at first, but I sent him like we've trained. He started toward my direction of the send command. He ran out, but he stopped and looked back to me. I gave him the send command again, and he started in the direction I gave him. He located the bird, and it was flopping wildly. I wasn't overly confident as to how he would react. He straddled the bird and he stared at it for a moment. I gave him the command whistle to retrieve it. He grabbed the bird by the head, and he proceeded to deliver it to my hand without any head shaking, drifting of route, chewing on it, or dropping it. He delivered it to my hand. The pride and excitement overwhelmed me. The grouse will be mounted to celebrate his success.

I almost gave up on getting a Cesky. It seemed like a very long wait once I applied to get a puppy. But, like the saying goes, "anything worth having, is worth waiting for." I'm certainly glad I waited. This pup has exceeded my expectations.

Bart Camps
Rocky Mountain Chapter member
Proud owner of Akira of Shaw Brook aka Jax.

Jon Coil and Bena of Two Rivers Crossing

Bena of Two Rivers Crossing got a big shock when she was jerked from the comforts of the Yeast family home with her siblings and familiar surroundings and after 10 hours of strange vibrations and bumps, some from the car and some from the driver, was deposited in a strange new land. My brother and family from Chihuahua, Mexico were here when Bena and I arrived so even the languages were new; Spanish and Northern Minnesotan.

I was excited but scared to take responsibility for a new puppy when getting down to her level was a creaking tottering somewhat controlled freefall. When I hit the ground among the 5 remaining puppies at the Yeast house, Bena happily crawled under the shelter of my legs and stayed put. What an omen and all was right with the world.

She settled in quickly and two weeks later it had been almost a week since the last accident in the house. We enrolled in a puppy class and it was a good one, luckily since it was the only one and it was fifty-five miles away.

I was so thankful that Andy Yeast had acclimated Bena to getting her nails clipped and I could do it easily as she slept. Then about six weeks later something changed and sweet little, but fast growing, Bena decided she didn't want to get her nails clipped! Oh, what a battle it was.

We are fortunate that we have land to walk the dogs and for several weeks we were lucky to have a woodcock in the willow brush around the house. Coco pointed it at least every other morning and we called it the yard woodcock. One morning walking on the gravel road by the house, Bena's nose lifted and she walked off the road into the brush and after pointing and moving up she pinned the woodcock with Coco backing. I flushed the woodcock. What a girl!

The yard woodcock eventually moved on and a couple grouse moved in to feed on the thorn apples. Bena took turns with Coco, pointing the yard grouse under the spruce and pine of the windbreak.

We haven't lost any good shoes to chewing. With enough exercise Bena is quiet in the house and has become a great friend to Coco of the Sandhill. Bena (BeNA) according to the Ojibwa/English on line dictionary means grouse. It looks like it might be a good name for a sweet dog.

Damien Lanclos - Brownie od Pálavských vršků (a.k.a. Remi)

Remi is an import and about five months old at this writing. She's doing great and loves to torment her older German Shorthair Pointer step-sister.

I had her in the back of the truck to take a few photos and a squirrel happened to present which had her tighten down on point when I whispered, "squirrel" in her ear. I'm hoping her points aren't always a show dog "stack", but it just happened that way, and I love it...

Best regards,

Damien Lanclos

RANDY ROSS and Adaline Rose of Payette River (Ada)

Ada is doing great. She's never showed signs of gun sensitivity. I've fired a shotgun near her one of the first times out. She GOT EXCITED!! She retrieves to hand after playing with her for a month or so. WE MAKE EVERYTHING A GAME! Very important. She rides a kayak on the Jefferson River. A little slow going with water. Funny part is I first threw a small rock to get her attention on a dummy - no interest. I threw a very big rock, she jumped right in. Crazy. I had her out in the cold rain today messing around in water and wet grass and brush. No big deal. One thing that is noteworthy is, after the getting her used to things, is my wife and I were with her hunting doves on our ranch- and worked our way back to the slough. I took a dummy, got Ada excited, threw a dummy in the air, fired my shotgun - she jumped right in and brought it to me. Great stuff. All this before 4 months old.

She likes helping with firewood. This morning I was using a chainsaw, she got my attention by getting close and jumping around. I stopped the saw and threw pieces of wood into the brush. I believe when one does that, they should stop that what they're doing and encourage the retrieve. We did that playing for a bit, then I got a dummy and into the wet woods we went. Screw the firewood! Ada is a tough dog that wants to please. We encourage that. As destroying stuff - - prescription glasses, gps power cords, reading glasses, shoes, sandals, clothing, caught her today working on trying to tear up the back of our leather couch. Stuff. Anyway, this is a quick idea of what Ada has been doing. One point is very noteworthy, she HATES DUCKS! We're working on that one. Get back to me if you want more info on how I'm bringing her along. Randy.
